“ There aren't any words to express this heartbreak I feel for this family. I've never been in this situation, so I don't know how someone can go through this without the help of God, family, & friends. I graduated with this special boy's parents in high school. Even though this is extremely hard, just remember he's home with God, & he'll always be in your heart. I've been in Florida for over a year, but if I was back home I'd pay my respect. Even through this, it will be better with time. May God Bless You Always!

“ *Our hearts hurt for you. We have and will have you constantly in our prayers. We especially pray that that God will release his peace to comfort you fully. all I could think of was that the spirit of the Baby Jesus needed your Grant for a purpose we will later understand.
