“ " Grammy" as she will always be to me and my son Eric McGilliard was truly an Angel here on earth. The best Mother-In-Law ever and Grandmother to my son. I couldn't have ask for a better family to be married into. She taught me in subtle ways to love, laugh and the value of family... our most precious gift. During the most difficult times in life she was strong for all of us even though her heart was surely heavy as well. I will miss her laughter and her way to always look at life on a lighter side. The day my shelf fell in the Hummel cabinet I felt like crying so I called her and we laughed about hers and mine both falling the same way! Grammys door was always open and I will always cherish the great memories when our "Gang" was home for the holidays! Grammy was giving and selfless, always caring for others. Life is never long enough and it is hard to say goodbye for now... rest now sweet Grammy... I know where you are! I will see you again, until then.. you live on in my heart. Much love, Cyn McGilliard/Brallier

“ Mary lovingly and generously opened her home to me while I was doing an internship in Indy in 2004. Tom was our minister at the time and he set it up for me. She gave up her master bedroom and bath to give me more privacy and wouldn't hear of any other arrangement. She was so kind and a sweet, grandmotherly presence in a place away from home. I couldn't have asked for a better roommate for that month. What a lovely lady. I'm so glad I got to share that time with her.
