“ My first memories of Brother Yaney date back to my younger years when my family sang in revivals and camp meetings around east central Indiana. I remember how he always took time to give a friendly greeting to those of us who were young and made us feel part of the Christian family. He was a consistent, steady example of quiet, humble Christianity, and while his name may not have been as widely known as some of the great evangelists of the Holiness movement, I consider him one of the giants. More recently, I saw him negotiating a packed crowd at a rally for a Presidential candidate. I know he traveled some distance to get there and he was in a wheelchair or scooter, but I admired him for making the effort to attend that event because it showed he cared deeply about our country. I know his family will miss him, but please know that he touched many of us way more than you will ever know and your family is in our prayers. Bobby Root.
