“ Truly loved Maxine, and her patience and wisdom. I was one of those children in Sunday School Class that she taught. I learned so much from her, but it wasn't necessarily the material that she taught, it was the presence of Christ that was around her that I learned about. These would be what we call gifts of the spirit. Maxine was the first to teach me about those, and she taught it in materials and with her presence. Truly enjoyed her, and her family throughout the years. My prayers are with each of you, for I experience but a fraction of your loss, and it is deep, yet bittersweet. Bitter in the fact that she is no longer among us, but sweet in the FACT that I know where she is. With Christ's love. -Dwight
