“ I knew Randy when he was at Rose-Holman. He was a great friend. After I graduated from Rose I visited Randy and his roommate Gary Cooper. I will never forget one evening Randy literally ran across my car from the trunk, over the top and finally the hood. I was in shock, speechless! Lol, I couldn't believe it. RIP old friend.

“ I have followed Randy's blog for years, and have enjoyed his humor, and appreciated his desire and ability to lead people to a deeper knowledge of Jesus. I'll miss his writing, but I know Who he walks with now, and I'm glad that he's no longer suffering.

I pray that I will be able to honestly say, to quote Randy, "Truth found in the search requires a commitment to the finding. Thus, I am all in as a disciple of Jesus. My commitment does not waver. I will follow him."

“ A few fond memories of Uncle Randy. He would hide his face in a pillow and make noises and their dog Wendy would try to get to his face and lick it, so fun to watch. My sister and I gave him "chiropractic treatment" by walking on his back while he lay face down on the floor. He brought home dry ice from work one day when I was over at their house and he put it in the toilet so Craig and I could see what it would do in water! Those are a few memories I have of Uncle Randy as a child. Fast forward to 1994, Craig was in my wedding and I found out later that somehow he ended up at the church with the wedding close to starting without black socks. Uncle Randy gallantly gave his black socks to Craig to wear in the wedding while Uncle Randy went sockless!. After I had children of my own, Uncle Randy took it upon himself to make sure they knew where their armpits were!! 😂 Thank you Uncle Randy for the joy and the laughter you added to our lives. “ Randy was a great man and my first supervisor at Lilly. He had a big heart and gave me an opportunity that obviously changed my life forever. As others have said, he had a great sense of humor; a dry wit that always made me laugh. He was also insanely smart and had very eccentric tastes which you would never expect. It was a pleasure knowing and working for him and I will remember him fondly.

“ My deepest sympathy. I worked with Randall at Pitman Moore in Terre Haute, and then Mundelein, IL before we both eventually ended up at Lilly. I will always remember his sense of humor. We had a lot of great laughs together. He will be missed. - Matthew Gray

“ We will forever remember Randy for his humor. One night in choir practice, prepping for Easter, the director was talking about the throng of people. What we were to do. Randy stood up and announced “I refuse to wear a thong” ! We will forever remember our trip through Lowes. The guys found a Bidet and shower. Of course they did not pass up a chance to embarrass Carol and myself. Thank you Randy for all the laughs, hugs and love. You made a big impact in our lives and will forever be in our hearts. You are missed but your legacy lives on !

“ I remember Randy from high school as a fun and funny guy. Most of all, he was one of the smartest guys in our class. I wanted him to invite me to senior prom, but was too shy to make my wish known. My condolences to his family. I always think of him when I recall memories from senior year. Terri Vernon Horvath
