“ The Department of Social Work at Ball State University would like to extend our deepest sympathies to your family during this time of great loss. Travis was a major in our department at Ball State, and I served as his advisor. We were impressed by Travis and his desire to make a difference in the world. He was so proud to become a father and always shared pictures of Olivia and had great stories to share. He will be remembered and missed.

“ Travis was my daughter, Tiffani Jones-Brown's, first serious boyfriend. He was a kind, sweet, thoughtful young man. I have a photo of Tiffani and Travis that will always make me smile. Tiff was returning from a trip and Travis met her at the airport with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. They are both smiling from ear-to-ear in the moment captured by the camera. He was talented and one-of-a-kind. We send our heartfelt condolences as his family and friends begin the healing process from this untimely loss.

“ I was sad to read that Travis has passed away. Travis was a student in several of my classes at Ball State University in the Department of Social Work. I know of his personal struggles at times but never doubted his capacity and potential to contribute to our field of Social Work. During the several times I met with him 1:1, he often spoke of his daughter, the awe he felt toward her, and his appreciation of the opportunity to care for her. I have thought of him often since he left school. I know he will be missed.

Sincerely, Sandra Shelly, Assistant Professor, Department of Social Work, BSU

“ My funniest memory with Travis was when we were taking cardboard out to the dumpsters at Gill Brothers Furniture and Travis for some reason had his taser in his pocket. Well when he jumped in the dumpster to try to stomp on the cardboard, he apparently set it off in his pocket which sent him jumping out of the dumpster and running through the parking lot. Travis was one of a kind and I will truly miss him.
